U.F.A. POLITICAL ASSOCIATION ENDORSES MR. SPARKS' ACTION

Strong Resolution Passed at Meeting of the Directors on Saturday. Will Not Ask Wetsaskin Representative to Break Faith with His Fellow Members, and Express Confidence in Him and the Alberta Government.

The following resolution was passed at a meeting of the directors of the Wetsaskin U.F.A. Provincial Political Association held on October 6th, in the U.F.A. block:

"Whereas the U.F.A. members of the legislature have taken over the government of this province and manage its affairs up to the present time in a highly satisfactory manner,

"And whereas, on every occasion and especially in the legislation affecting the wheat board, the U.F.A. members have worked for justice for the farmers' interests,

"And whereas, the U.F.A. members unlike any other government in the history of the province did not claim

the full seasonal indemnity for special session in July,

"And whereas, in response to an address from the U.F.A. members to return a part of this amount to the U.F.A. members of the legislature, and to express our utmost confidence in our member and government,

"And further that we request our member to use his influence in bringing about a better system of remuneration for members by arranging that a yearly salary be given instead of a seasonal indemnity."

MINUTES OF M. D. OF MONTGOMERY

The regular meeting of the council of the Municipal District of Montgomery, No. 48, was held in the U.F.A. block on Saturday, October 7th. All the councillors were present.

Minutes of the meeting of September 2, were read and adopted on motion of Coun. Neville.

Mr. Hamphill, of Millet, came before the meeting asking for damage of $75.00 to his car sustained by driving into a burnt oil barrel. Coun. Jenne was instructed to look into the matter of this road. Nothing further was done.

Mr. Palmer asked payment of $5.00 for moving fence on road diversion along his place.

The agreement between the Hospital Board and the Municipality re the care of indigent sick, was read three times and adopted on a motion by Coun. Freeman.

An agreement between the J.S.B. and the municipality was read regarding a road diversion on Mr. Orr's farm near Millet, the council being asked to construct the fence. The council not being in the fence building business agreed to pay the fee for the wire needed to construct the fence on side of the road.

A letter from J. W. Jackson, secretary of the organization of municipalities, was read regarding the annual convention to be held this year in Calgary. Two delegates were appointed, being Coun. Fred Freeman and C. A. Johnson.

The bills for the furnishing of the maternity ward were all laid before the council and they amounted to a little over $500.00, which was donated by the Municipalities of Montgomery and Bigstone. The council felt they had done all that they could in the matter at this time, and asked the U.F.A. and U.P.A. to raise the balance of the money, some $300.00, in some other way.

Leo Bussard moved that Mr. Treu and Mrs. P. C. Peterson be recommended to the District U.F.A. association for appointment as delegates to look after the furnishing of this ward.

Coun. Bussard moved that pay sheets and bills be paid.

Meeting adjourned.

PONOKA PREPARING FOR HOCKEY SEASON

A meeting for the purpose of reorganizing the Ponoka Hockey Club was held in the town hall on Friday evening. There was a very fair attendance, and the officers chosen for the year were—Hon. J. W. Macdonald, president; J. G. LaPrade, vice president; H. E. Kyrle, secretary; R. Ames.

A committee of players was appointed to act in conjunction with the town council in keeping the rink in condition. Levels have been taken, in view of leveling the rink in under way. The secretary was instructed to get in touch with the Wetsaskin and Leduc with a view to forming a league. There are several new hockey players in our midst this year and it is expected that the town will be much strengthened.—Herald.

AUTOMOBILE ASS'N TO HOLD LUNCHEON

A meeting of the Automobile and Good Roads association will be held at the Grand Hotel luncheon room at noon on Friday, the 13th, in connection with a luncheon. The matter of distributing and placing road signs, which have just arrived from Edmonton, will be discussed. A good attendance is requested. Luncheon free.

HOTELMEN WILL ASK AUTHORITY TO SELL BEER

Calgary, Oct. 9.—Alberta will have an opportunity of expressing an opinion on a new phase of the liquor act within the next two months. It was stated Saturday, from the very best authority, that the Alberta Hotel Men's association have prepared a new act, now in the hands of the printer, entitled "The Alberta Temperance Act" under which it will be legal to sell soft strength beer in hotel dining rooms, in clubs and on trains.

The Hotel Men's association is taking steps to organize a petition under the Direct Legislation act, which means that the government has the option, when presented with a petition carrying the legal requirement of names, of passing the bill as it is presented to them or giving a plebiscite within sixty days of the close of the session.

The new act, the first proofs of which were in the hands of the printer on Saturday, provides for nothing but the sale of beer, under conditions as stated above. It makes no provision for the sale of whisky and does not interfere with the present liquor act, which liquor is sold by the government vendor to druggists who in turn retail it on registered physicians' prescriptions.

Hotel men who are behind the move claim that the act will provide for the sale of $750,000 a year to the Alberta government, this being raised by a tax per gallon on all beer sold in the province.

ARMISTICE SIGNED BY ALL GREAT POWERS

Munich, Oct. 10.—The armistice convention was signed here at 11 o'clock. The representatives of all the powers concerned affixed their signatures to the revised protocol, which General Harrington had presented for acceptance to delegations from the United States, Great Britain, and the United States, and the German government for its deputation.

General Harrington had informed that the convention on the Allied Great Britain's last word and that the other powers gave their unqualified support to the terms.

"You have for your only debt for peace," continued General Harrington, "and the armistice has been signed for you. All of your aspirations will be attained without loss of human life, without danger to the future peace and prosperity of your country. Four years and six months of your suffering will be entirely within your hands in 15 days. We offer you peace and we hope you will accept it."

On his part General Harrington had hoped his government would accept the conditions set forth and he promised a reply by 5 o'clock that evening. In the meantime, the British commander returned to Constantinople where he remained until the afternoon, going back to Munich on the Iron Duke to hear the Turkish deputation.

The Turkish deputation were somewhat disheartened and disappointed over the turn of events in the past two days. The new attitude taken by the French after the Paris conference, puzzled them and they were amazed that French friendship, on which they counted as a main prop in the negotiations did not yield the results they expected.

TWO KILLED IN MOTOR WRECK AT LLOYDMINSTER

Lloydminster, Oct. 9.—When an east-bound freight train struck an automobile at Blackfoot, Alta., level crossing on the Canadian National railway five miles west of Lloydminster, yesterday afternoon, Chester Smith and his wife were instantly killed. T. H. Currie, of Kitchissippi, Alta., who was driving the car, suffered a broken leg and was badly cut about the face and hand. Smith died early Sunday morning and Mrs. Currie is in a critical condition. Currie, who was a Liberal candidate in the Alberta provincial election, is expected to recover.

How the accident occurred has not yet been explained as there is a clear view in both directions for a mile at the crossing. The engine, which was pulling a heavy load, carried it for 200 feet before the train could be stopped.

POLICE COURT

P. C. Peterson was summoned before R. M. Angus, J.P., on Monday afternoon of this week on the charge that he had been driving a motor vehicle without having obtained a license so to do, the same being in contravention of Bylaw No. 432 of the City of Wetsaskin. Mr. Peterson pleaded that he had no sell out to the residents of the city, and even refused to accept orders from the residents. However, he was found guilty, and was fined $5.00 and costs, amounting to $9.00 in all.

CIVIC HOLIDAY MONDAY NEXT

In compliance with a petition signed by a large number of citizens, His Worship Mayor Montgomery has proclaimed Monday next, October 16th, at Civic Holiday. Therefore, all places of business in the city will be closed that day.

OBITUARY

MRS. DIETZ

There passed away at the residence of her son, Mr. Wm. Dietz, Beatrice street, on Monday evening, October 9th, the late Mrs. Wm. Dietz. She had been a patient sufferer for some time with cancer, and was aged sixty years. She was a native of Ontario, but lived for a number of years in Dakota before coming to Alberta. She was one of the early settlers of this province, having made her home in different parts of Alberta for about thirty years, the last four of which were with her son in the city. Her husband predeceased her some years ago. She leaves to mourn her loss, one daughter and two sons, namely, Mr. H. H. Dietz of Edmonton and Mr. A. J. Dietz of Wetsaskin.

The remains were taken to Edmonton by Walworth & Jackson, undertakers, and the funeral took place from their chapel Wednesday afternoon. The interment was in the family plot in the Strathcona cemetery.

MRS. JABS

The many friends were shocked the first of the week to learn that Mary O., beloved wife of Mr. Jacob Jabs, had passed away on Sunday last, after only a few days' illness. She was aged thirty-three years. As she had been a resident of the district for about twenty years, she has a large circle of friends and acquaintances. She leaves a husband and seven children to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother. The funeral took place at 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon at the residence of the family, and the interment was in the Brightview cemetery.

THIEF BREAKS INTO THE ROYAL MARKET

D. M. Parker of the Royal Market was greatly surprised Tuesday morning when he reached his place of business to find that the store had been broken into some time during the night of the 8th. Four hundred and fifty dollars' worth of goods were missing from both cash registers. An entrance had been formed through the basement door. The wire screen had been cut, which enabled the thief to enter the store. The thief was evidently not hungry, as all that was removed was about $20.00 in change from the registers. In his hurry to get away a clue was left, which might assist the police in finding the perpetrator.

Canada Farmers Oppose Colonization Plan Until Conditions Are Changed

Edmonton, Oct. 9.—Opposition to the proposed immigration scheme of the Canadian Colonization scheme that has been endorsed by the federal and provincial governments is being developed from an unexpected quarter in Alberta.

The organized farmers themselves are beginning to come out against any scheme to bring in settlers for the land under conditions existing at present. The executive of the East Edmonton District Association of the United Farmers of Alberta, which is the political organization of that district, has passed a resolution which says:

"Whereas, we believe that the occupation of our vacant lands by prospective settlers is most desirable, and whereas the economic and financial conditions in this basic industry are such that it is impossible for farmers to continue on the land under existing conditions,

"We therefore wish to point out the fact that any immigration project which contemplates the bringing in of settlers for the land under conditions existing at present, is a project which we oppose."

The organized farmers are also opposed to the colonization plan but are not objecting so much to the immigration generally as to the 32-year payment plan as suggested by the colonization association. The Alberta government has recommended their admission to the parents of the Methodist church.

There were three women on the committee and they put up a vigorous fight to allow the women to become pastors.

One of the arguments against women becoming ministers, advanced before the committee, was that it would tend to rob the credit.

VULCAN FARMER IS MURDERED ON OWN DOORSTEP

Charles H. Kelly, a well known farmer, was murdered on his doorstep on Friday night last, about ten o'clock and Otis and Obello D. Dorch brothers, aged 18 and 19, respectively, are held as the alleged assassins. It is said that Kelly was called to the door of his house by two young men who asked him to come out to see a piece of gasoline. As he paused to speak to them, one of them discharged a shotgun and Kelly's head was almost blown off. Death was practically instantaneous. The murderers started up their car and drove rapidly away.

Mrs. Kelly summoned neighbors, the police were informed, detachments were brought from Lethbridge and other places. Bloodhounds were secured but the services of these were not required for the Dorch brothers had themselves open to suspicion in a pool room at Vulcan late at night and were arrested by Constable Craig of the Alberta provincial police. It is said that Otis made a statement to the police in which he took the responsibility for the shooting.

A disagreement arising out of some threatened operation of a saloon, it is believed, has been the cause of the murder. Kelly owned and operated a thriving outfit and it is reported that there was trouble between the Dorch brothers and him when they were working for him lately. The police bloodhounds were used effectively in tracking the killers and were a considerable factor in the rounding up of the brothers, according to the police report.

I.O.O.F. DISTRICT MEETING, 30TH

The district meeting of the I.O.O.F. lodges in this district will be held in the hall of the city of Wetsaskin on Saturday afternoon and evening, October 30th. The lodges in this district are Leduc, Millet, Ponoka, Wetsaskin and Otis, and Bro. Cummings, of Ponoka, I.O.O.F., will be in charge of the meeting.

WETASKIWIN GROWS LARGE POTATOES

On Saturday afternoon last, C. F. Pennington, who lives two miles south of town on the farm of T. Rae, brought to the Canadian National station a load of potatoes, which are the largest potatoes it has been our privilege to see for a long time. One of them topped the scales at two pounds seven ounces; three weighed seven pounds, three ounces, and the dozen weighed twelve pounds three ounces. They were smooth, well formed and apparently sound. They were grown on land manured with straw. Mr. Pennington states that he will have about seventy-five bushels of yield about half an acre, which is not a big yield, but the crop is large and clean.

He also brought into "The Times" of the complete fresh produce of the city for a long time. One resembles a bear with several legs and claws holding something unrecognizable, which, when the bear was killed, it curled up and protected by a large claw. On each of the claws are five fingers or projections. The other, which was dug from the ground, resembles a pig's snout, and also have the five fingers strikingly marked.

BLACK FOX FARM YIELDS GOOD CROP NEAR NEW SEREPTA

A Cameron, silver fox farmer, of New Serepta, on the C.N.R., between Edmonton and Camrose, has this season a crop of ten young foxes. Some of the young ones were lost during the early part of the season. The wire netting between the pens was not fine enough, and the young ones in one pen would put their paws in through the netting, when they were bitten off or badly injured by the foxes in the adjoining pen. Otherwise the season has been quite successful. Mr. Cameron has been rearing foxes for four or five years, and is well satisfied with the results. His band has not produced red or cross fox for several years.

Women Again Lose Out In Fight For Admittance To The Methodist Ministry

Toronto, Oct. 5.—Once again the women have lost out in their efforts to gain admittance to the Methodist ministry. By a vote of 17 to 16, the discipline committee of the general conference decided against recommending their admission to the pulpits of the Methodist church.

There were three women on the committee and they put up a vigorous fight to allow the women to become pastors.

One of the arguments against women becoming ministers, advanced before the committee, was that it would tend to rob the credit.

CITY COUNCIL ENTERS INTO AGREEMENT WITH HOSPITAL

Several Delegations Address Council. Chief Shelton Granted Vacation. Tenders for Coal Accepted. Ald. Enman to be Deputy Mayor. Three Bylaws Passed. Steps to be Taken to Procure Title for Subdivision.

The regular meeting of the city council was held on Tuesday evening with all the members in attendance except Ald. Pendleton and Cummings.

After the adoption of the minutes of the previous meeting, Mr. Barry, president of the Agricultural Society, addressed the council re an account of $25.00, for wiring and lights at the fair grounds during the last exhibition. After discussion the account was ordered to be written off.

Mr. Altrude addressed the council asking for the refund of money he paid for let purchased from the city some months ago, as the title was so slow in coming through. The matter was referred to the finance committee and the city solicitor for investigation and report.

J. Johnson said addressed council, stating that he was not in the city at the time of the court of revision, and asked to have the assessment of his property reconsidered. It was referred to the finance committee for report.

Mr. Angus addressed council respecting error made in cemetery, and suggested that the council give his brother a transfer for another plot, and thus straighten the matter. It was recommended that a transfer be made as requested.

A letter was read from the Municipality of the Union of Alberta Municipalities.

CAMROSE FARMER MEETS DEATH IN RAILWAY CRASH

Daham, Alta., Oct. 10.—Archibald H. Cameron, a prominent farmer of the Camrose district, was killed in a head-on collision with a freight train on the Canadian National at a mile north of Daham at 10:30 this morning. Jones was instantly killed while jumping from the caboose at the moment of impact. J. P. Caspey and Pat Cameron, of Camrose, and Robert Hall of Daham were seriously hurt, but not fatally injured. One other man, whose name could not be learned, was also hurt.

The accident occurred on a curve on the railway line. Jones, Caspey and Hall were riding on the caboose of a stock train going north. Rounding the curve behind the stock train, a freight from the south crashed into them. The caboose and another car ahead were smashed to kindling wood.

Archie Jones, who was killed, resides on a farm about a half mile north of Camrose and was an official of the Camrose U.F.A. local. Mrs. Jones is a patient in the Camrose hospital, where she gave birth to a child on Sunday morning. In addition to his widow he leaves three young children.

WETASKIWIN BEES AT LOS ANGELES

Another proof that an advt. in "The Times" brings results is the finding of a live bee which was removed from Wetsaskin some weeks ago, and which have been located in California. The only paper announcing the loss of the bees was this great family journal, so they must have been located through this medium. There is no doubt about the circulation of "The Times" being very far reaching, and the results obtained from the classified columns are very satisfactory. The card, making reference to the swarm of bees which were removed, was sent to Geo. L. Owen, and reads as follows:

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 3rd, 1922.

"Dear Geo.,"

"That swarm of bees that was stolen from Court House Ave. has been located here."

"Send a bundle of Scotch wool to which we will call it square and head them bees north."

"Yours without a struggle,"

"Miss Lee Angel."

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Schell of Wetsaskin, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ethel Virginia, to Mr. William Epworth, of Harrison, Ontario, the wedding to take place in the near future.

asking for resolutions to be presented to the convention to be held in Edmonton shortly. The letter was filed.

A letter was read from a financial firm asking the city would purchase certain debentures of the City of Wetsaskin held by them. A suitable reply will be made, giving the information requested.

Chief of Police Shelton asked if there was an opening for a steam laundry in Wetsaskin. They will be informed that there is no opening.

Mrs. Carter wrote objecting to the amount of taxes against their property. Mrs. Carter will be informed that the appeal cannot be considered at this date.

W. B. Peters wrote council objecting to assessment on auto, as he only had car in the city about one month. The assessment will be written off.

A largely signed petition was presented asking that Monday, October 16th be declared a civic holiday. His Worship complied with the desires of the petitioners and declared October 16th a civic holiday.

Chief of Police Shelton asked for a two weeks' vacation next month. The question of engaging a night policeman was brought up, considered, and referred to the police committee to bring in a recommendation at the next meeting. It was agreed that Chief Shelton be granted a week's holiday.

Chief Shelton gave his report for the month of September, which was adopted.

An account was received from the Department of Children and Youth of a Wetsaskin child they are caring for. It was referred to the relief committee for investigation.

Ald. Macdonald recommended that the city should contribute to the cost for the supply of blood sent to the city, public schools and hospital. The recommendation was adopted by the council.

A public property committee reported on the condition of the nuisance ground, and recommended that the place be cleaned up and made sanitary. The matter was referred back to the committee with power to elect Ald. Compton, chairman of the public property committee recommended that the old water tanks in front of the fire hall be filled in, as it is in a very dangerous condition. The matter was referred to the public works committee with power to act.

The Cowan boys have been insured for $100,000.

The Higgs requested council to write off assessment on auto, as he does not own one. It was referred to the committee to investigate and report.

His Worship presented a copy of the September issue of the Municipal Review of Canada in which erroneous information was given regarding Wetsaskin. It was requested that the Municipal Review of Canada be asked to make a correction.

His Worship submitted a proposed agreement with the Wetsaskin Hospital board providing for a special rate for indigent patients of $2.00 a day, providing the city make an annual grant of $1000.00 to the hospital board. The council accepted the agreement. Ald. Liveridge and Compton dissenting, these voting yes being Ald. Enman, Macdonald and the Mayor.

It was agreed that Ald. Compton be acting chairman of public works committee and Ald. Macdonald be acting chairman of Electric Light committee.

The following accounts were passed for payment: General $25.37; Electric Light $243.14; Waterworks, $23.00.

Ald. Enman was elected deputy mayor for the last quarter of the year.

Bylaw No. 447, appointing J. W. Gibson city scavenger, was read three times and finally passed.

Bylaw No. 448, appointing J. W. Gibson poundkeeper for Wetsaskin, was read three times and finally passed.

Bylaw No. 449 amending Bylaw No. 432 respecting the issuance of licenses to stock dealers, was read three times and finally passed.

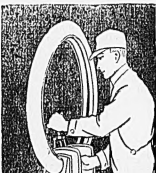

Ald. Liveridge gave notice that at the next meeting he would introduce a bylaw to pay the Mayor and Aldermen for the current year.

The secretary of public works was instructed to take the necessary steps to procure title to subdivision in the western part of city, and that subdivision be cancelled.

Meeting adjourned.

WIFES OF THE WILDERNESSIN NORTH HAVE A RIGHTFUL
CLAIM TO OUR CITIZENSHIP

(By Mrs. C. Hamer-Jackson)

Quite recently the Honorable Charles Stewart, minister of the interior,
speaking on the floor of the house at Ottawa, mentioned that on a superficial examination of conditions in relation to Indian affairs, he had come to the conclusion that Canada had been largely delegating to private individuals and church organizations
duties regarding the Indians which
were really those of the government of the nation.Truer words were never spoken in the Dominion house. As civilization has advanced most the Indian tribes have receded towards the north. It is probably the most amenable who have been quartered into "reserves"
where they are sufficiently supervised
to be outside the realm of this article, for they have schools, many churches, and enjoy all the privileges
of citizenship, if they are willing to avail themselves of the advancement
which education alone can give to them.Horrors of MotherhoodBut the great mass of the Indians,
those who still retain their own language, their own customs, their own barbarous ways of living in dirty
tepees, or in mud huts, is still beyond the pale of civilization. The women are nothing more than beasts
of burden, and although the children
have done wonders in improving their conditions there are still many places in that vast expanse of so
known regions where women go through life under conditions that are unspeakable, the most appalling part of it being that it is in motherhood
that the most atrocious horrors are perpetrated.These things certainly do not take place now anywhere near the western
or trading posts, where white men
have taken with them the primitive
laws of humanity; but if anyone wishes
to think deeply on the matter, let him look up the map of the northern hemisphere and study the thin line of transportation, which marks the traders' posts and the Christian missions.Vast Expanse of TerritoryStarting at Port McMurray, it winds its way through Ft. Chipewyan, Ft.
Edmonton, Port Smith, Port Rous-
selle, Hay River, Port Providence, Port Simpson, Port Wrigley, Port Norman,
Good Hope, Port McPherson, to the Arctic, to the north and away to the east, the lonely post at Coronation Cliff.Now look at the width and breadth of the Northern Territories, and answer
for yourself the terrible question as to where Christianity, whose blossoms at every point on that long
trail, ends, in the unknown wilderness
at the right and left of it?It is, however, not the women who suffer the burning question of the moment. They are already past the redeeming period, as far as modern civilization goes. It is the young and growing children that must be looked after, and taken care of, if it is to be fulfill our duties towards them.Few Attend SchoolThe churches have opened schools and missions, and wherever there is a church a school will almost certainly be found; yet, during the summer of 1921, a census taken at the time of the Indian treaty pay, revealed the fact that only about ten per cent of the children of the Indians had been attended at any kind of school, or mission, while, surprising as it may seem,
a still smaller percentage could speak or even understand English.In all the Catholic missions, up to a very recent date, only French was taught in the schools. In these splendid mission schools the children were taken in from the age of two years,
even younger, until they have reached
maturity; every care is given to them,
they are clean, healthy and well
taught; yet a young girl of eighteen, Edmonton as a domestic servant, a girl who could sew, mend, wash, read and write in French, and who had been at one of the mission schools for eight years, could not speak a word
of English. This, not in the province of Quebec or Ontario, but in the north west in a mission school supported by British money, within the British empire.I have no intention of discussing,
cataloging, or discarding here the merits of the language question in the British North America Act. It refers to French Canadians, and not
whose very life is founded on traditions, sentiments, and love for their old mother country—perhaps one of the greatest tributes of loyalty and patriotism which the world has ever witnessed.Claim to CitizenshipI am holding this brief for a country which can claim to be the first and lowest in the crown of the British empire; it is on behalf of a nation of native men and women, whose traditions only refer to barbarism and
who, in the last convulsions of civilization to free herself from paganism
is classed as savage, simply because they are chained by ignorance to all
the superstitions and beliefs pertaining to witchcraft, black magic and to sorcery.Surely these people have as much claim to British citizenship as the inhabitants of the Philippine Islands.
They, too, see their situation. At the present moment the United States
after just twenty years of occupationof an island people of a nation whose traditions cannot be in their clubs,
every year to the universities of the New England states the two hundred brightest pupils of its schools; these
after being thoroughly educated to the value of decent honest work, clean
living, and family life, are shipped back to the Philippine Islands and used as leaders in all possible official
duties regarding the Indians which needs no discussion. The United States book of educational records is open, to the criticism of the world. It will stand the test.The only children of the north who learn English thoroughly are the children belonging to the Church of England, who go to such schools as Port Chipewyan, or Hay River, and they are naturally in the minority. On the other hand, these few learn English
only, with the result, deplorable in every way, that languages create a strong dividing line between children
of the same race, because they belong to different creeds. We are gradually realizing more and more clearly the absolute necessity for the children of Canada to learn the two languages on which the history of the country is founded, and in the north especially, when the future of the race is concerned, should we ask for French in the English schools, and English in the French institutions.However, the most important point
in which we are concerned is that the Indian and native children who attend
school in the north are the few lucky ones amongst that great number of growing children of the wilderness. If they have parents they are from the
more intelligent portions of the tribe.
As a matter of fact, in many cases
the children are orphans whom the missionaries or sisters have rescued
from starvation and exposure. According to calculation, made above,
there are ninety per cent who never
go to school, never learn anything but
to perpetrate the filthy mode of life
which is the only one they have ever known.Old Exotic FallsThe old excuse that Indians trap in winter and fish in summer, therefore making it impossible to organize the schools, which would have to be in the bush, falls to the ground in the face of personal observation on that subject.The Indians are very keen to congregate wherever money pay is made
place. It is in the summer holidays.
They travel miles in canoes or across
country to meet their friends and relatives, and weeks before the actual
day of payment they are on their way.
Five dollars per head per year, a whole
city of tents and tepees will spring
up. These tents and tepees often remain for several weeks after treaty
pay has taken place; they are refusing these weeks an attempt should be made to gather these children and teach them the rudiments of the English language; at any rate, to recognize the Union Jack and to learn the name of "God Save the King,"—Journal.A Terrible Canadian Bear
Story of The Late SixtiesHere is a Canadian bear story reprinted from the London (Eng.) Times of 1868. The writer was evidently a bit shy of his knowledge of our geography.We have just received intelligence of another terrible bear catastrophe in our Colony of Canada. The sad affair occurred recently in a small village called Toronto, a few miles from Winnipeg, on the main line of the Union Pacific railway, and not far from the main station at Hudson's Bay.
It appears that a settler named John
Shaw, who was president of the Fire,
Water and Gas Club, was on his way home from one of its meetings, and when almost at his own door a huge grizzly bear sprang upon him from the adjacent forest. The snow at the time was eight feet deep and the thermometer 50 below zero, and the unfortunate man being on snowshoes and
only armed with a shotgun, was unable to cope with the savage beast
and consequently was fearfully mangled. His cries, however, brought to the spot some half breeds who lived in the bush on the edge of the Indian reserves, and these, with the help of members of the Fire Club, who had also been attracted by the cries, soon dispatched
the brute. The bear was found to measure five feet from snout to tip of tail. The town has since the beginning of winter been over run with bears, and it is not safe to venture out
at night without a good rifle and a lantern. The unfortunate settler was carried to the hospital at New York,
the nearest town, and we are glad to learn in doing so as well as can be expected.Woman Swallowed Needle.
And Found It In Her BabyStockton, Calif., Oct. 8.—Three years ago Ethel Price swallowed a needle
two inches long. Two months after she married.Today, her baby, Charlotte, only 22
months old, continued to cry, apparently without cause. The infants had been repeatedly vomited to a spot in her left shoulder. The mother investigated
and found the needle under the surface of little Charlotte's skin.Team of Huskies for Quebec VisitorsOne of the chief innovations at the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, in connection with the winter sports programme is the introduction of a husky dog team. In order to secure the genuine animal a representative visiting
the North Country to select dogs suitable for this purpose. Previous to the journey telegrams were sent
to the journey telegrams were sent
to all important fur posts, north of the Great Lakes, but owing to the unusual conditions prevailing during the fall of 1921, little success was met with. A variety of replies were received — one Hudson's Bay Post
sent word that owing to the lateness
of the "freeze up" and poor travelling conditions, Indian trappers were still far in the interior with their dogs, and were not expected until
the New Year. Another factor replied that strange sickness, the symptoms of which resembled distemper, was afflicting most of the dogs in his vicinity, and that he would not advise their purchase. Another word that fish was so scarce,
dogs were extremely thin and weak,
and weaker members had been sacrificed to provide food for the larger and more useful dogs. The value of husky dogs in the Canadian north is very high and after various prices reach surprising proportions
in the fall when each man sets out
to secure a string for his winter's work. Due to the heavy expense incurred in equipping and maintaining a team, the price for the dogs
has been raised this year to attract a most exacting "travellers. Last year pups were selling for $200 for a string of five, whilst animals fully grown and trained brought from $75
to $100 each.The husky dog has been a valuable servant to the men of the Canadian North, and his part in Northwestern expeditions has been so small
one. His services are still of inestimable worth in the transport
over snow-covered areas where the means of travel exist. While the planners of civilization and progress
are blazing trails, and securing the first fruits of a wealth which only
the introduction of rail-roads will
fully reveal for exploitation.
The mounted police, trappers,
miners, prospectors, all men of the snow-shoe trail, gallantly pay
their tribute to the past the husky
dog plays in their daily work.
The district north and west of Nipigon promised success in acquiring huskies, as just before Christmas the Indians bring their fall
catch into the post, where they
trade them for fresh supplies, beads,
firearms, and other articles which they may require. The representative of the Chateau on arrival found some 15 to 20 dog teams, but they were a motley assemblage, only a few running true to type.
Teams were constantly coming
and going, and finally with a burst
of speed, a fast young wolf approached the Hudson's Bay Post, and at the command of "Ho" from the Indian musher suddenly slowed up and came to a stop. The leader was a particularly young brown wolf-like animal, and was named "Nipigon-
ben," which translated means "Nipigon Wolf" and after various tests
was selected as one of the proposed team. Finally the other four were purchased, as they proved to be one of the fastest teams in that part of the country. Exceptional care was exercised in the selection as they were to be used in the vicinity of
the Chateau Frontenac, at Quebec,
and naturally were bound to be handed and petted to a certain extent by the guests and spectators.
Not having been trained together,
considerable trouble was experienced at first. The Indian who assisted in breaking them in said, "Take away
the harness and let them make
friends." No sooner was this done
than a regular pandemonium ensued,
followed by a glorious rough and
tumble fight, and it was with great difficulty they were separated. The Indian merely grinned and said,
"They are all friends now," which
seemed to be the case, because after
certain amount of sniffing and licking they were again tested and pulled much better. Ten to fifteen miles a day were made by the team
without any individual loading, and so fast were they that the Indian chaperon and a number of the other
teams around to a series of races,
and not once was the new team defeated. At last the animals were shipped by the Canadian Pacific to Quebec City, and arrived in excellent trim. The names of the dogs are somewhat interesting, being all Indian, and are as follows with the English translation:
Nipigonben, Nipigon Wolf
Wabun, The Rabbit
Wabun, White
Muk, From "Mukna"
meaning bear.
At the age of nine months or one
year the education of the husky begins in earnest. He is broken to harness learning, with older dogs,
to pull his share of the load. At four years he has attained his full
growth and strength, a stalwart
wolf-built, half-wild, diddled, powerful,
perfectly proportioned,
beautifully coated.
The harness is made of one long,
continuous side-trace connected with
a saddle, and belly-band around the middle, and to lead-ropes which rest on fore-shoulders and receive
each dog's pulling weight.
The Indian has particular care
in which to guide or incite the dog
teams: "Mish, Toiyah, Tukok," to lead them into a gallop. Then "Ah
... . Press," as some dog slackens
the harness and let them make
friends. No sooner was this done
than a regular pandemonium ensued,
followed by a glorious rough and
tumble fight, and it was with great
difficulty they were separated. The Indian merely grinned and said,
"They are all friends now," which
seemed to be the case, because after

Greatest Enemy

For All Diseases of the Blood
For Sciatica, Lumbago or Rheumatism, it has no equal.

To the Medical Men of Canada.
I took 24 boxes, but I got results. I was suffering from rheumatism in my legs, hips, shoulders and hands. My knuckles were swollen twice their natural size. I was unable to work—could not get to the house—when a friend advised me to try Verno. After taking 6 boxes I was able to do a little work, and thinking I would get all right, discontinued taking it. But I was soon confined to the house again. Again I started taking Verno, and took 15 boxes more. I never was so thankful for anything in my life. I have not lost one day's work since, and my pains and aches have all left.

A Costly
Sacrifice

Last year $45,000,000 worth of insurable property was destroyed by fire. In addition to the heavy loss from forest fires. There were also 336 fires lost, about sixty per cent of the fatalities occurring in the burning of dwellings and houses and the large majority of the victims being children under 12. During the past decade the property loss has been $250,000,000 apart from forest conflagrations, and the loss of life totalled more than 3,000—mostly children. The per capita loss of property in Canada is fifteen times as great as the average in European countries. And constant investigation of fires in Canada has demonstrated that the chief causes of the enormous losses of property and the tragic loss of life are nothing else than ignorance and carelessness on the part of the people.

Men's Common Duties

(By Dr. Frank Crane)
No right exists alone. It must always be balanced and limited by other rights.

No law can compel a man to work. Every one has the fundamental right to quit work if he wants to.

The gist of a quote, however, is not the right to quit work, but the right to induce others also to quit.

But there are also rights to this. For instance, there is the right of contract. If you agree to a thing, you must do it, an able man to whom you made your promise has the right to force you to do it by law and make you pay damages if you refuse.

The general public in the United States could not live as it now lives without the railroads. Therefore no organization has the right to stop transportation.

The people could not submit to these things without a strike. Any strike that should cut off the milk supply of the city would be tantamount to the assassination of thousands of children.

Neither could the public submit without cut or without the post office. It is perfectly proper, therefore, for the government to see that such basic industries as these are carried on, and that no organization shall become powerful enough to persuade anybody from ceasing to operate them.

There are fundamental laws that people forget. One of these is that every worker should be paid wages enough to keep him effective. Employers should seek a maximum wage as a matter of mere common sense.

Another law is that workers injure themselves individually and as an organization unless they seek maximum production. To regulate for minimum production and to bring a whole body of workers down to the level of the inefficient is as vicious as it is silly.

Another general law that is as important as any of these—that is as important in the matter of production—is that without constant effort toward good will industry breaks down. All this talk about fight, or theories that are based upon class opposition, or movements that depend upon envy, covetousness and the like cut out the very heart of industry, which is good will. There can be no prosperity that is not based upon intelligent cooperation between employer and the employed.

THE BINDER AFTER HARVEST

The knotting mechanism of the binder is a complicated and delicate piece of machinery and should not be exposed to the weather. A heavy coating with a heavy coating of axle grease and tie an old piece of canvas over the binder head.

Binder canvases will not stand any particular amount of exposure and should be removed as soon as the machine is stopped. Crickets and mice quickly destroy the canvas and in some cases even eat the slats. One will be repaid for his time if all the canvases on the binder are well wrapped in heavy building paper and suspended from the rafters in the granary or hay loft where they cannot be molested by insects or mice.

THE NEEDED TRAINING

He never praised his country, never spoke one word of love.
To the son who walked beside him of the noble flag above,
He never gave a reason to the younger at his side.
For devotion to his nation or her heroes who had died.

He talked a hard, honest talk that was in the town,
And he talked of making money and a fortune's fair renown.
But he never took his rest off when the noble flag went by,
And he'd hear his nation's anthem with a bored and weary sigh.

He voted, yes, he voted, but he did it with a sneer
And belittled him in office with the shly of state to sneer;
He called them politicians and the look upon his face
Seemed to tell the little fellow that his government was base.

We must teach them love of country. We must tell the little chap that, to assist them in completing their professional training. The scholarship will be awarded on the condition that the successful applicants shall teach for at least a year in an outlying district of the province. This district must meet the approval of the department of education and the committee in charge. The scholarships are open to both men and women, and there are conditions governing the character and training of the applicants who will be considered.

Saskatchewan Masons
Help Rural Teachers

The Masonic lodges of Saskatchewan have announced that they are again offering scholarships to rural teachers who hold at least second class diplomas, to assist them in completing their professional training. The scholarship will be awarded on the condition that the successful applicants shall teach for at least a year in an outlying district of the province. This district must meet the approval of the department of education and the committee in charge. The scholarships are open to both men and women, and there are conditions governing the character and training of the applicants who will be considered.

This is the second year in succession that the Masonic lodges of Saskatchewan have made this offer. Last year thirty-one were awarded, and this year $9,000 is to be divided into thirty prizes of $300 each. The primary object of the award is to promote the educational interests of the state, and only in a secondary sense aid the individual in a financial matter.

This is the first time in Western Canada that such an attempt has been made by bodies outside of the department of education, to directly assist and encourage the rural school. The Masonic lodges, recognizing that the teaching of training and character is by far the greatest factor in the rural school, have encouraged the efforts of those teachers in a financial way.

OLDEST HORSE
IN THE WORLD

The ordinary span of horse life is twenty years, but there is a horse in Catavissa, Pa., the property of the Rev. Dr. Uriah Myers, which is fifty-one years old and mired the oldest horse in the world. As a matter of fact, there is no record of any other horse having lived anywhere near as long. A short time ago, it might have been killed, because his owner could not afford to keep him. But the story of his extreme age and admirable character having gone abroad, gifts of money and offers of maintenance came from many sources so that now Clover is retired from active service on a pension. Moreover, his eminent, veterinarian even promises Clover many more years in which to enjoy his fortune and his fame.

When Clover was a young horse, he was famed as a racer in Kentucky, and has a record of having trotted a mile in 2.2, and paced a mile in 2.17, many years ago of course. His owner believes he could do fifteen miles a day at the present time without any physical strain. He comes from Hambletonian stock, his head particularly resembling that of Hyslop's Hambletonian. At fifteen years of age he came into the possession of Dr. Myers and for thirty-five years loyally served his ministerial master.

Clover has a certain spunky look even yet. He stands a bit shaggy and croaky today, for his half century legs that carried him a mile in the blue grass country when Jay Eye See wasn't even foaled, never were more. Oddly enough, Clover isn't lame, because the leg of the shorter leg is longer and equalizes its length to that of the longer foreleg. He stands 16 hands and weighs about 1200 lbs. His condition shows the excellent care his master has given him. His ration, twice daily, consists of a top scoop of bran, one of middlings, and two of a mixture of oats, clover and molasses topped off with three ears of corn. It takes him a long time to

MADE IN CANADA

According to the veterinarian who examined Clover recently, the horse is sound in wind, and has wonderfully clean legs, and there is a hasty to his coat that is remarkable in an animal so old. His only blemish is a cataract on the right eye, but this is not necessarily traceable to old age. It is hard to tell the exact age of a horse by his teeth after the fifteenth year. However, the contour of the mouth changes with age. In a young horse the teeth meet at an oblique angle, but as the animal gets older the angle becomes more and more acute. Judging by this Clover has the oldest mouth that veterinarians have ever seen. His incisors are as long as a man's forefinger and straight in the jawbone. The most surprising thing is that the teeth are in as good condition as those of a ten year old horse.

His incisors are in perfect condition and in this fact undoubtedly lies the secret of his health. The horse is remarkably spry and playful and as fast as one, who knows his age, with the quickness of his movements. He lies down and gets up with ease, a sign that he is still many years from his end. One of the first symptoms of marked old age in a horse is the difficulty of lying down and getting up again.

BUFFALO GIFTS
TO LORD BYNG

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—Several characteristic Canadian gifts have been sent to Lord Byng upon his present voyage to Lord. Upon his arrival at Wainwright, Alberta, recently where the party detained in order to visit the great buffalo herd in the national reserve there, he was met by the municipal school children and large numbers of the citizens and presented with a address mounted on a buffalo skin.

Later Their Excellencies and party motored to the National Park and inspected the herd of over 7,000 buffalo as well as the moose, elk and caribou contained in the enclosure. Some prime buffalo meat was also presented to the vice royal party who throughly enjoyed this gastronomic treat. While at Edmonton His Excellency presented with a fine mounted buffalo head and the Cree Indians from the Hobbema Reserve created him Chief Buffalo Head of their tribe.

A MOTHER OF
FIVE CHILDREN

They Are Seldom Sick
Unless From Bowel
Trouble

Mrs. George Chapman, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., writes:—"I am the mother of five children and I must say that they are seldom sick or in need of medicine. They are, however, sometimes troubled with Summer Complaint, Diarrhoea, and such like, but I always find that there is no cause for worry as I just give them two of three doses, no more, of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and the trouble soon disappears. It is a remedy that all mothers should keep in the home for their children."

This old, tried and proven remedy for Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Colic, Cramps and Pain in the Stomach, Cholera, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, or any other Loose-ness of the Bowels, has been on the market for over past 77 years, and we cannot help but recommend it as the very best preparation you can possibly use for all these troubles.

At the same time we wish to warn you against accepting a substitute for the original, the price of which is 50c. per bottle, and put up only by The T. M. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THE MAKING OF FRIENDS

If nobody smiled, and nobody cheered, and nobody helped us along; if each every minute looked after himself and the good things all went to the crony.

If nobody cared just a little for you, and nobody thought about me, And we all stood alone to the battle of life, what a dreary old world it would be!

If there weren't such a thing as a flag in the sky as a symbol of comradeship here;

If we lived as the animals live in the woods, with nothing held sacred or dear; And selfishness ruled us from birth to the end, and never a neighbor had we; And we never gave to another in need, what a dreary old world it would be!

Oh! if we were rich as the richest on earth, and strong as the strongest that lives; Yet never we knew the delight and the charm of the smile that the other man gives.

If kindness were never a part of ourselves, tho' we owned all the land we could see, And friendship meant nothing at all to us here, what a dreary old world it would be!

Life is sweet just because of the friends we have made and the things which common we share. We want to live on not because of ourselves, but because of the people who care; It's giving and doing for somebody else, on that all life's splendor depends. And the joy of this world, when you've summed it all up, is found in the making of friends.

GIANTS CAPTURE
WORLD'S SERIES

New York, Oct. 9.—The New York Giants since were baseball champions of the world. They reached that pinnacle of success for the second consecutive year in a furious uphill rush yesterday afternoon that flung the Yankees to defeat five to three, and crushed a disgusted pitcher, Bullet Joe Bush.

It was the second successive time that the Yankees have lost the Giants in a world's series and failed. This year they went down gloriously without the solace of having even one of the five games that comprised the battle for the title. The best the Yankees could do was to tie the second game of the series. The Giants won the other four.

In all the annals of the game only two clubs ever triumphed in such a decisive fashion. In 1907 the Chicago Nationals won four straight victories over the Detroit Americans after fighting a twelve inning first game tie at the 52nd run.

Seven years later the Boston Braves surprised the fans of Canada and the United States by wrecking Connie Mack's superb Athletics four games in a row.

Chas. K. Robbins, of Chicago Point, Vermont, N.Y., writes:—"A recent experience in selecting fine stock has resulted in the loss of a valuable cow's udder. I have demonstrated again the great worth of Robbins' Liniment. I can recommend it in the most glowing terms to all who have a herd of cows."

"I have never considered my household stock complete without a bottle of Robbins' Liniment. For some years I have kept a supply of this liniment in my house, and I have never been disappointed. I think I am safe in saying that among all the patent medicines there is none that cures a larger class of ailments than Robbins' Liniment. I am a true believer in this liniment."

Wherever there are people who are troubled with damaged nerves they will find in Beecham's Heart and Nerve Pills a remedy that will restore the equilibrium of these damaged centres and bring back the shattered nervous system to a perfect condition.

Corp. J. Glebe, Can. Machine Gun Corps, 1231 James St. North, Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"Since I was discharged from the army, June 16th, 1919, I have been suffering with my nerves. I have had to come home from work, on many occasions, and finally let my job. I was told to try Beecham's Heart and Nerve Pills. I did so and after taking one box I felt a great change, and since then I would not be without them in the house, as I had tried everything people told me about. Looking Backward

FROM THE TIMES' FILES

(October 8, 1902)

The C.P.R. has decided that a daily passenger and express train will take the traffic on the C. & E. line now required, and the mixed service was discontinued last week. The passenger trains will leave Strathcona every morning except Sunday at 8:30 and will reach Calgary at 5:30 in the evening.

Another train of thirteen cars of cattle were shipped from here this week by P. Burns & Co. The ship was made up from the herds of Messrs. A. B. Rosewell, Baughman, A. Carruthers, Mallett and V. A. Vanauter. Mr. Rosewell sold 52 head which averaged 1234 pounds.

R. B. Price resigned his position as clerk in the store of A. H. Dickson. Theo Hanel has just finished drilling three deep wells in the Stony Creek district.

Whip Sharpe, who recently severed his connection with John West's Pioneer Store, has accepted a position with Compton & Montgomery. Twenty-one lots were sold by tender on the new survey last week, the majority of them being on the east side of the railway track. The Town site company has increased the price to $100 for corner and $75 for inside lots.

A large two-story laundry and store house is being erected in connection with the Criterion Hotel.

(October 12, 1912)

The citizens of Wetaskiwin will be surprised to learn that the Wetaskiwin "Trot & Trot" and "Trot & Trot" have decided to move their plant to Medicine Hat, where they are offered the best inducements, and with that object in view are tearing down the old saw and door factory and this material will be shipped to the new site.

Hugh Allan, who was shot at Fort St. John, was held in the discharge of his duty, has practically recovered from his wound, and will resume his duties Monday.

The Wetaskiwin Board, Earl, owned by Geo. H. Allen, won the Victoria derby last week.

That there is gas and oil in the district in paying quantities is the opinion of an expert who has been looking over the country. Certain lands in townships 46 and 47 have been leased and there is considerable speculation as to what the movement will be of those who are behind the scheme.

The teachers of the Wetaskiwin inspectorate will hold their first convention in the Alexandra school on October 17th and 18th.

The Wetaskiwin Blockhouse Co. is offering choice residential lots, Pearce and Lorne streets near the water tower at $300 a lot.

GENERAL NEWS

Just think, the first of October, and no word of the Ladies' Bridge Club. Perhaps our good ladies have decided to "reform" and give up "crambling." Again it is said that there are so many anxious to join the club that the numbers would be too large to accommodate in a private home of an evening—Ponoka Herald.

Olds, Oct. 9—Fire of unknown origin at an early hour destroyed the garage of Mrs. Wolford, creating damage estimated at $800, partly covered by insurance. The best fire brigade responded promptly, but a strong wind had fanned the blaze, putting it beyond control. Considerable furniture in rooms above the garage was destroyed.

An unusual case was treated at the Provisional hospital on Monday last. Russell Hart, a sufferer from hemophilia, has been operated on several times to control the hemorrhage resulting from an accident. A transfusion of blood was considered necessary, and Sister Mary Canalis, the sister superior, offered to become the "donor" for this purpose. She gave one pint of blood and the transfusion was made. Mr. Hart seems to be making satisfactory progress, and it is earnestly hoped that he may make a complete recovery, and Sister Canalis may have the satisfaction of seeing that her practical expression of sympathy was not in vain.—Dayland Press.

LEWISVILLE

Mr. C. D. Smith made a trip to Lewisville last week. Mrs. S. Eggleston of Millet, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Jones. Mrs. Mary Burr, of Spokane, Wash., is a guest at the home of her brother, C. O. Wig.

We understand that J. Gibson and Mr. Alton are intending to invest in a moving picture outfit and give shows all the schools and halls through the country. We wish them success.

C. O. Wig, Mrs. Burr, and Miss Wig motored to Dahamela to hear the address of Mrs. Nellie McClung. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Dugdon.

The Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. P. Greiner on Friday, the 29th of September. Many musical selections were rendered. Every one present reports a fine time.

ANGUS RIDGE

The Angus Ridge Institute met at the home of Mrs. P. L. Greiner on Thursday with a good attendance. The main item in the business session was the selection of a subject for a government speaker to speak on at one of the meetings in the coming year.

At a previous meeting it was decided to ask the land schools, in which district the institute is represented, to write essays on "Advances in Living in Canada."

At this meeting the secretary was instructed to notify the teachers of these schools to the effect that the contest would close on November 15, and that 1st, 2nd and 3rd prizes will be awarded by the Institute.

After the business meeting, recitations, vocal and instrumental music followed, concluding by the usual custom of serving lunch, which consisted of sandwiches, cakes, fresh peaches with cream, and coffee.

GWYNNE

The October meeting of the Gwynne U.F.A. and U.F.W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. A. Maxwell on Saturday evening last. There was a fairly good attendance and the main topic in discussion was whether or not we still carry on with our U.F.W.A. It was finally decided that we continue as we are.

It was moved, seconded and carried that the Gwynne U.F.W.A. approve of the stand taken towards Mr. Spruk's resolution with regard to the $250 indemnity by our directors at their recent meeting.

The next U.F.A. meeting will be held at the Offordale school on Saturday evening, November 4th. There will be a program and among other things a debate on "Resolved, that the Ladies should propose to the gentlemen." The speakers will be, affirmatively, Mrs. Cartwright and Mr. Cole; negatively, J. Maxwell and Mr. Tangle Woodcock. Everybody will be welcome.

MILLET

On Tuesday evening, October 10, a quiet wedding was solemnized by the Rev. J. N. Hughes at the parsonage, when Mr. Wm. R. Epworth, of Harrison, Ontario, was united in marriage to Miss Ethel May Schell of Wetaskiwin. Mr. William Schell and Miss Annie Schell, brother and sister of the bride attended the couple. The happy couple are leaving for Harrison, Ontario, where they will reside.

Sunday services for October 15th will be as follows: Porto Bello at 11 a.m.; West Liberty at 3:30 p.m.; Millet at 7:30 p.m.; Sunday school at 1:10 p.m. Subject: "Foundation of Spiritual Things." Special singing by the choir under the leadership of Mrs. P. Esterbrook.

Do not forget the annual harvest festival at Millet on October 20th, and at Larch Tree on October 27th. Good suppers and programs are assured. Supper and concert only 10c, the proceeds to go to the church bursar fund. Make it a real Thanksgiving fund.

Haltersburg, Ont., Oct. 9—Some idea of the best resulting from the forest fire Wednesday can be gained by the experience of A. McLennan, teller in the Union Bank here. He made his escape, but returned later to find a 6,000 pound safe with its steel sides warped like a board.

How the Fordney Tariff Affects

Western Canada

Western Canada producers will be interested in some of the provisions of the new United States tariff. This high wall tariff is certainly exclusive, and to a large extent will affect western Canada trade in a detrimental way. A glance through the tariff leaves the impression that it was framed with the idea of shutting out western Canada products. The following quotations will show the position under the old tariff and the increases under the new one:

Dairy products—Butter oleomargarine, etc., increased from 2 1/2 to 30 per pound; cheese from 20 per cent ad val., to 50 per pound; milk free under old tariff, now 2-2 1/2 per gallon; cream free to 20c; milk condensed or evaporated free to 1c to 1 1/2 per pound.

Cattle—weighing less than 1050 lbs., free under old tariff, now 1 1/2 per pound; weighing over 1050 lbs., free, now 20 per pound.

Sheep—formerly free, now $2 per head.

Wool, formerly free, now 1 1/2 to 3 1/2 per pound.

Grains—wheat, formerly free, now 50c per bushel; wheat flour free, now 75c per 100 lbs.; flaxseed, increased from 20c to 40c per bushel; barley from 15c to 20c per bushel; oats from 5c to 10c per bushel; oatmeal and rolled oats from 30c to 50c per 100; rye, free to 15c per bushel; bran, shorts, etc., from 10 per cent or free to 15 per cent ad val.; all classes of grass seeds, from free to 1c to 4c per pound.

Logs—fir, spruce, cedar, hemlock, formerly free, now $4 per 1000 ft., manufacture of wood increased from 15 per cent to 33 1/3 per cent.

Pigs—formerly free, now 12c per pound; bacon, hams, etc., free to 2c per pound; lard, free, to 1c per pound; and substitutes, free to 4c per pound.

Poultry—live, increased from 1c to 3c per lb.; dressed from 2c to 6c per pound; eggs, free from 10 per cent to 20 per cent.

Hay—increased from $2 to $4 per ton.

Potatoes—increased from 25c per bushel to 50c per 100 lbs.

Horses—value under $150, each, from 10 per cent ad val. to 20 per cent; value over $150 each, from 10 per cent to 20 per cent.

Undressed furs, free; hides, free; silk, formerly 10 per cent, now free.

Vegetables in the natural state, 15 per cent to 25 per cent.

Meats, prepared or preserved, free to 20 per cent.

Fall Ploving Kills Grasshoppers

Professor E. H. Strickland, government entomologist, has prepared a circular containing valuable advice to farmers in the area where grasshoppers are causing trouble this year. Some of this advice is pertinent to the fall season. Mr. Strickland says: "The destructive grasshoppers lay their eggs during August and September either in soil (roadside grasshopper) or in stubble and deserted land (flesher migratory and two-striped grasshopper) and no eggs are laid in land that has been summer-fallowed."

Where it is practical from a cultural point of view all stubble land that is to be seeded next year should be deeply plowed this fall as soon as the crop has been reaped. The plowing will bury any eggs that have been laid so deeply that they will not hatch in the spring, and it will prevent any further egg laying in the field so plowed.

Early fall disking is less effective than plowing though it will lessen egg laying, and all eggs that are brought to the surface will be destroyed by the sun.

When fall plowing is not advisable or practicable, stubble land should be plowed to a depth of not less than eight inches before seeding in the spring. Care must be taken to see that the furrows are well turned over and the plow should be followed with a packer. When this work is well done very few hoppers will reach the surface.

Spring disking unless followed by plowing is of little value and it may do more harm than good, for it merely buries the eggs to different depths in loose earth, with the result that the hatching period is greatly prolonged, and fields that have been so treated require frequent poisoning in order to catch the constantly hatching grasshoppers as soon as they appear, and before they have done much damage to the crop.

In the more sandy districts which are infested with the lesser migratory and two-striped grasshoppers, the problem is more difficult, since these species by their eggs promiscuously in stubble land and in deserted fields, and do not gather into breeding areas. No crops should be sown on stubble land in such districts unless it has been deeply plowed, and any eye that is stubbled in this fall will be seriously affected.

Deserted lands and fields that are to be summer-fallowed next year constitute a serious menace to all crops in the district, and the best method of handling them requires careful consideration.

Whenever possible summer-fallowing should be started early in the season, when the ground is still moist. The fields should be plowed from the edges towards the centre, or in strips

When you want printing done, and want it done right, bring it to The Times office, where good printing is the only thing done.

so that the grasshoppers that have hatched will be herded together. These must be kept from the plowing is completed.

Alberta Fairs Exhibit

The Alberta exhibit, which has been touring American state fairs, will be taken to exhibitions at Twin Buttes, Montana, Pendleton, Oregon and to Walla Walla, Washington. The exhibit had attracted much attention at the Montana and Utah state fairs, and should do much to acquaint Uncle Sam's people with the diversified resources of the best province north of the 49th.

Alberta To Develop Northern Salt Mine

Edmonton, Oct. 5.—Alberta's farmer government has decided to develop a salt mine. Premier Greenfield has issued instructions for boring operations to be started immediately in the extensive salt beds at Watrous, near Fort McMurray. Tests conducted in previous years proved the existence of salt deposits there, and the field is believed to extend to Watrous.

The provincial government's idea is to develop big salt works within easy reach of the government-owned railway. The A. & G.W., whose terminals are at Watrous, the government has not yet decided whether it will market the salt itself or turn this part of the work over to a private company. It is stated that several companies are anxious to avail themselves of the opportunity.

Several hundred acres of land at the end of the steel are owned by the government and the proposed salt mine will be located on this property. The expectation is that rock salt, such as is used for curing purposes and on cattle ranges will be the chief product. The government hopes these salt are not yet decided whether it will market the salt itself or turn this part of the work over to a private company. It is stated that several companies are anxious to avail themselves of the opportunity.

BANDITS USE CLEVER RUSE

Winnipeg, Oct. 5.—With numerous citizen posse along the border on the Canadian side standing nightly patrol and the federal and provincial police concentrating every available means for the work, the bank raids are believed to have been effectually stopped after some twenty-five banks have been robbed of a quarter of a million dollars.

The secret of how the bandits managed to leave no trail behind them in several instances has been solved. They took the tires off their autos and ran them on the railroad tracks until the section of their raid had been left behind. They put on their tires again and sped away with no trace being left behind.

Headquarters of the three bandits known to have operated in Manitoba have been definitely located at Minot, N.D., and the U.S. authorities are urged to cooperate in arrests. This cooperation is not forthcoming very rapidly. The U.S. officers say the Canadian authorities have been giving them trouble by letting the ruffians ship their goods over the line, and now that these run runners have turned bank robbers, they are tipping off the small bank branches of the Canadian prairies, they are not inclined to get excited over it.

Homes of Dawson District Stocked With Deer Meat

Dawson, Oct. 5.—Tens of thousands of Wild Caribou are now swarming over the hills through the snow of Dawson for a radius of fifty miles. The great herd which annually trods through this district is now moving to the north. Large herds swimming the Yukon have interfered with the passage of steamers in the river. The herd is so vast that the hunting of men, women and children, who have provided winter emergency game with deer meat for the winter, has made no noticeable effect upon it.

Money Thrown Away!

Specialist charged $131 a week, $1 worth of Zam-Buk

Saved Her Leg

"I had only one week of the 'special' course of foot leg treatment supplied in my own city, and it cost me $131 in course payments. It was simply money thrown away," writes Mrs. James Kilworth, 302, Selkirk Ave., Winnipeg.

The aches first appeared in my left ankle, and they spread from the top of my leg up to the knee. Laid my leg on a pillow, and the pain was so bad that I was unable to get up. I was treated by five different doctors. I persevered with their lessons and comments until I felt positive there could be no cure.

Then one day I saw a sample of Zam-Buk. Even this small quantity was decidedly soothing, and it encouraged me to get a supply from the druggist. Perseverance with Zam-Buk proved wonderfully and thoroughly effective. The irritation and the pain were speedily subdued; the ulcers were thoroughly cleansed of poisonous matter and the leg permanently healed.

Zam-Buk, the magic herbal balm, is equally good for eczema, ringworm, pruritus, scabies, pimples, boils, abscesses, galls, cuts, burns, rashes and all skin injuries. 50c. all dealers.

You Can Get Back Your Grip on Health

A statement that will be of much concern to thousands of people in Alberta was made recently by William Williamson, a Veteran of the North War, residing at 215 Tenth St. North-east, Calgary.

"I believe in giving everything its due," he continued, "and I want to say right now that I just can't praise Tonic too highly for what it has done in my case. For some time I had been in a badly run down condition. I had absolutely no appetite and had fallen off seventeen pounds in weight. My nerves were all undone, I could not get sufficient rest at night and got up morning feeling as tired as when I went to bed. I was also bothered a great deal with rheumatism in my legs and ankles, which would often get so stiff and sore I could not walk without great pain."

"So much was being said in the papers about Tonic that I went to a druggist friend for advice. He assured me that Tonic was good, so I began using it and soon found it wonderfully improved. After taking a few bottles my troubles all disappeared and I found I had regained fifteen pounds of my lost weight. I am now enjoying myself in health and do not hesitate to recommend Tonic to anyone."

Tonic is sold by all good druggists.

IN BED 9 WEEKS WITH DROPSY

Used Doan's Kidney Pills

Mrs. Fred Appleby, Heath, Alta., writes us under date of April 19th, 1921:—"I wish to express to you the benefit I have received from using Doan's Kidney Pills. About ten years ago, when I was seventeen years of age, I was in bed nine weeks with a very severe case of dropsy. I was terribly swollen up around my waist and was kept propped up so that the water would not get to my heart."

The doctor gave me two weeks to live—when my Aunt got me 'Doan's Pills.' I had passed so water for two weeks, but after I had taken one box I passed a pint, and after taking three boxes I was up and quite well again, and I have never had any return of that awful trouble."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50c. per box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Millard Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MOOSE JAW M.P. IS UNSEATED FOR CORRUPT PRACTICE

Moose Jaw, Oct. 7.—B. M. Johnson, member for Moose Jaw in the dominion house, was yesterday morning found guilty of corrupt practices in making returns in connection with election expenditures. The election was declared void.

Judgment to the above effect was handed down by Mr. Justice Ewing, responsible person through the official and Mr. Justice MacKenzie before.

whom the hearing was commenced some ten days ago.

The specific charges preferred against Mr. Johnson were, first, that a false return was made in alleging that certain expenses were paid under the authority of an official agent, when, in fact, they were not; second, failure to show in election expenses two certain payments of expenses, property to be classified as election expenses, made by the responsible person through the official and Mr. Justice MacKenzie before.

The Mutual Idea

IN WHAT WAY does a Mutual Life Insurance Company such as the Mutual Life Assurance Company of Canada differ from others?

It differs from them in having no private capital upon which shareholders are paid dividends.

A mutual Company is an association of policy holders carrying on the business of old line, legal reserve insurance at the lowest cost with absolute security.

The profits from all sources are credited to the policy holders, and may be drawn or used to reduce future premiums, so insurance may be said to be sold AT COST.

There is only one such company incorporated in Canada. This company began business so that it is now in its 52nd year, and of strongest financial institutions in the world. It is known as

Vancouver Must Get Ready To Move Large Share Of Grain Crop

Winnipeg, Oct. 6.—Get ready for a rush of grain through the Vancouver gateway.

That is the note that is being sounded in transportation circles of the prairie. Why, because the terminal elevators are getting jammed, the lake ships are not making any new contracts for cargo space and ten million bushels of grain weekly have been pouring into Port Arthur and Port William with but four million going out each week. If this condition continues a few more days the only outlet remaining will be via the Pacific route and Vancouver. That is what the railways are expecting and waiting for.

A systematic survey of the facilities are being made, the quantity Vancouver elevators and storage spaces can supply and possible ship space available during the next three months. The all year round port of the advantage of the lakes where the business companies depend heavily after the ice and storm period approaches.

This has been the big handicap of the Lakes route since the first half of grain went to elevator in that direction. About the time the elevators got choked up on the lakes part an end to further navigation. So with the highest crop a history of the want to move, Vancouver must get ready to move a share of it. An embargo may be issued against the Lakes route since if this condition continues as the yards there will be choked up and helpless. Ten million a week going in and only four million going out will bring the congestion very shortly.

SAILORS STARVE TO SAVE BABE

A stormy sea, a beached ship, a starving crew and a mother with a newborn babe, to preserve whose life everyone else sacrificed ration, thrill of the waterfront at San Francisco recently, on the arrival of the new ship Annie Johnson, with the crew of the San Francisco schooner William H. Smith. The schooner was beached in the Pacific for 43 days, and was discovered on August 14, when her signals of distress were replied to and she was provided with supplies. A pitiable condition was found aboard the schooner. The crew of seven men had been 21 days without food, except the copra with which the schooner was loaded. They were unable to help the emergency rations over the ship's side. In the cabin, Mrs. Nels H. Jensen, wife of the master, was attempting to nurse her baby. The crew of the beached vessel, it is said, "was beginning to show signs of insanity when rescued. For 116 days no food had been heard from the unfortunate vessel and she had been given up as lost.

Alberta Coal Output Lower Than Last Year

The coal output of Alberta this year is now estimated at slightly over 5,500,000 tons, a drop of nearly a half million tons from last year's figures. For this decrease the summer's strike in the bulk of the Alberta mines is mostly responsible. To the end of August there had been mined 2,649,915 tons, with a good four months still remaining in which to make up a normal output.

Practically all the mines are now working, it is reported by the mines bureau, and production is speeding up. The facilities for mining in the several fields are about on a par with the period of idleness. Shipments are being made to the prairie markets in fairly satisfactory volume now, and some coal is also going to the coast. The storage shortage, at Prince Rupert is still in abeyance, however, it not having been found possible to get it in operation this year.

DOPED WHISKEY ALLEGED WEAPON
THRESHERS' FEUD

3.2 grains of strychnine sulphate, dissolved in moonshine liquor of 110 proof spirit strength, was the powerful concoction swallowed by a gang of threshers on a farm near Wostok recently, the mixture almost causing the deaths of several of the gang, who were only saved by the prompt application of a stomach pump by Dr. Rush, at the Lamont hospital.

Dr. J. A. Kolko, provincial analyst, gave the above as his test of the brew and the police state that they have every reason to believe that the bottle was "planted" in the field where the gang was at work, by a rival threshing gang, with a view of putting the first gang out of operation during the threshing season.

The Way of a Woman

County Constable Sykes, by aid of a match stick and a frosted window pane was figuring out how the year just about spent had gone with him, when there sounded the stamping of feet on the packed snow outside. He of the floor door opened, letting in a chill wind, and closed again with a bang.

"Morning, Cap'n," greeted the constable. His back was toward the door and he had not turned from the window.

"How in time did you know it was me, Sykes?"

The man who had just entered was short and roly-poly. His vivid bitten face glowed red with the cold. To the fringe of whisker beneath his chin, clinging tiny spools of ice.

Constable Sykes scratched the figures 600 in the front and wrote the words "Pleading excuse" on the wall. Then he turned toward his visitor.

"A detective, Cap'n," he said, "has got to know a lot," he said, "to know how to get to have eyes in the back of his head so to speak. I knowed your body but a sailor or a railroad man would slam a door shut like you just slammed that one. There's no railroad men in Peach County, and there's only one sailor, and he's Cap'n Stubbs retired. He'd be right or be wrong."

Cap'n Stubbs kicked a chair across to the store and seating himself, said: "Retired's right, Sykes," he returned gloomily. "I might as well be dead and buried, by tarnation, as I live 'im fixed."

"You got a fine home," Sykes reminded him, "a wife as does on you, and a darter—"

"Hol on there, mate," interrupted Sykes. "I reckon I better quit trying to know what kind of a darter I've got than you be; and I'm going to tell you right now them two female women are crazy—yep—as Sykes' line eyes grew round, "plum crazy."

"Meanin'," invited Sykes, filling his pipe and passing his tobacco to his friend, "meanin' what, Cap'n?"

"Meanin'," by Jingo, neither of 'em knows a smax barber when they find it. Bound to pull anchor, they be, as I'm out on cross shanks when they order be 'bryin' snag right."

"No, you don't," in spite of eyes in the back of your head, you don't see, gashed the other. "So 'im going to try and make my own way, Sykes. I'm wanting your help."

He swung towards the constable and transfixed him with sharp, brush-shaded eyes. "Remember the time I fished you out of the lake and you said—"

"Cap'n Stubbs," interrupted the constable indignantly, "you don't need to remind me of the fishin' or my promise to you, either. A Sykes don't require to be reminded of a promise. I told you that if the time ever came when I could do you a good turn—"

"I've done this thing over and over," Sykes said. "Laten Sykes. You know young Jim Grayley, the fellow my girl Mabel is going to marry, don't you?"

Sykes nodded. "Pine young fellow, Cap'n, and he's got the best farm in the county—"

"And about as much backbone as a jelly fish," snorted Stubbs, "when it comes to being a woman's man. Six feet one in his socked tan boy, and—oh, by cripes!" he broke off—"what is the use of sayin' 'anther' more. Here's the trouble, Sykes. There's another fellow that Mabel's got her eye on, an' he's over at the house now. Going to spend New Year's with us."

"But how about Jim?" questioned Sykes. "He's spendin' New Year's with you, too?"

"Course he is," snorted the captain. "That's to say, he intended to, but this morning he comes to me and tells me he's got home. (Jim's Mabel ain't got no more use for him since she met this city fellow."

Sykes frowned. "Any what's he like?"

"This city fellow? Why, he's a dake. Doves like a prince and a gentleman. He's got Ma and Mabel cakin' right off his hand."

"But who is he, Cap'n?"

"Darned if I know," sighed the captain. "All I know he's here at all places, and it looks like he's got to crowd Jim clean off the map. I've told Ma what I think about the bull proceedings, and I've hid down the lat to that girl, but Sykes, you know women."

"Nobody better," agreed the constable. "I wish you see we still a hachin' at it."

"Humph," snorted Stubbs. "Well, what are you going to do about it?" asked Sykes, as he explained the fire.

"I've done the only thing left to do," announced the captain. "I've come to you. You gotta think of some way to can this know-it-all fortune hunter from the city. I don't intend 'twice, my little pie where I'll be spent foolishly or to lettin' my little gal tie herself up to life long misery, either, by cripes. Ma won't let me kick this Jerome fellow out and Mabel says I can't touch a guest. I wanted Jim to get him away somewhere where his loneliness and lick the Sam Hill out of him."

Jim thinks that out hurt Mabel. So there you be, Sykes. What in creation am I to do?"

"You say Miss Stubbs sort of favors this Mister Jerome?" asked Sykes in just this way, Cap'n."

"Lots of ways," growled Stubbs. "All ways. Here's a sample. You know there's been quite a lot of burglaries committed lately. Sykes, well, I'll allow you a good bit of money in the house. Ma, she's scared of thieves, and this found his daughter and her visitor playing duets in the parlor.

"Where's Ma?" he questioned shortly, ignoring the urbane Jerome.

"In the dining room," his daughter answered without taking her eyes from the mirror.

"What you don't with the clock, Ma," he asked.

She was a big, comfortable looking woman and she wore the captain read cap signals in her flashing eyes and compressed lips.

"I'm hidin' the money you refuse to keep in a bank, if you know now," he answered sharply.

"But for why?" growled the capering captain.

"You ask that?" she asked, "I would say two more burglaries have been committed right here in the village as 'most water on a rock.' I know you know you got a lot of money by you, I'll be so, now."

"O, I guess not," purred the captain. "Not while we have a chance of a thief catchin' like your pretty sister Jerome to guard us."

"Don't you dast say any word again Jim," flared his wife. "He's a gentle as a lamb, and he's gentle as a lamb."

"Mebbe," murmured the captain. "I ain't sayin' 'nother' again him. But I know him," he asked, glancing about him.

"I guess he's up to his room," answered his wife shortly.

The captain went out and up the stairs. He was crying and he was knocking on Jim Grayley's door.

"Come in," cried a bounding voice, and Stubbs slid into the room. He closed the door behind him and locked it.

"Jim," he said, "I got something to say to you. Stop packin' that railroad and set down on the bed. Now then, I'm in a fix."

The captain, in the fewest words possible proceeded to tell his young visitor what was going to happen that night at his home, and outline the proposed plan of action.

"You've got to punch the rubber one or two good ones," he said, at the conclusion, "but you're not to hurt him with your fists. He's a gentle as a lamb."

"Remember, if they were to find out that the rubber was Sykes, the laugh 'ud be on us. Got it?"

Jim got it all right.

"I don't like it," he said, "it's underhand. If I'm not an honest to be this Mister Jerome in the name of Jim."

Cap'n Stubbs had expected some of this. He was persuasive and diplomatic. In twenty minutes he had succeeded in convincing his prospective son-in-law that what had been planned had been planned for everybody's best interests.

"All right," Jim agreed reluctantly. "Go ahead. I'll do my little part when the time comes."

At the moment that night the conversation round to home-baking, robbing and hold-ups. It was not difficult to see that Mrs. Stubbs planned something of a mania for the subject.

Now indeed found everybody began to show nervous tension; and at last, by the way of retiring, Mrs. Stubbs suddenly made a rush of windows and doors to see that all were properly fastened.

On the plea of getting a drink from the kitchen, the captain managed to snatch one of the stolen windows. He winked suddenly at Jim as he hid him goodnight and followed his wife up to their room.

At precisely one o'clock in the morning, Jim Grayley awoke from a slight doze and prepared for the part he was to play in the fake robbery.

Opening his window noiselessly, he stepped through it and hanging on to the frame of the shut, dropped softly in the snow bank below. Jim then crept around to the kitchen window.

The captain had the kitchen light burning. Yet there was the robber looking very burglarlike indeed in his black mask. Jim noticed he held a revolver in his hand.

"Well, it was time to set things going. Swinging open the window, Jim crept inside. As he thudded on hands and knees on the floor, he shouted 'Hello! Burglars!'"

The mock man turned. There was a flash of light, a sharp report, and the young farmer felt a bullet shave his cheek as it whizzed over his head.

As he related over, there came another report. Jim heard the tack of a bullet against the floor.

Jim was angry. If this was Constable Sykes' idea of playing false, he was going altogether too far. His hand reached for the stairs.

fool actually shot at me. I sort of forgot myself, I guess."

From behind a high screen which protected the plants from the heat of the coal stove came a voice that said: "Jim spring across the room. He bent and dragged a limp figure from behind the screen."

It was Constable Sykes. His eyes opened. He swallowed and sat up. "Where is he?" he whispered, feeling his head gingerly.

"Who, Sykes, who? I asked the bearded captain. 'And, Sykes, how the Sam Hill are you there and over here?'"

He pointed to the senseless figure in the mask.

Sykes stood up groggily. He gazed down at the man on the floor. Then, from his hip pocket he produced a pair of handcuffs, and he produced, stupor from the man on the senseless man's wrist.

"He heaved me, that fellow," he spoke in an aside to the captain. "Just I was gottin' to the window. He's a real burglar, that chap."

Light came into Jim's eyes and the captain. The former stood up and jerked the mask from the unconscious man's face.

The man on the floor was Jerome. The next morning, 3:30, was sweeping out in Jim's arms. But only two of the words she spoke were remembered later. One was "love" the other "brave"—but it was enough.

Jim had a good laugh at him out of his confused thoughts.

"His coming round," he wanted. "Just listen and hear what she has to say. She's a good girl, but she's the speech of a real woman."

It was. It took Mrs. Stubbs but a few brief seconds to take in the situation. Then she turned indignantly on her captives.

"You on a couple of fools," she said. "You're teach you a lesson. You'll know better than take an entire stranger into your home, any way."

NO WRESTLING MATCH

The Editor,
Dear Sir:
In your last issue it was announced that Mr. Geo. Kaiser would wrestle me at Lone Ridge on October 20th. I wish to have it made known that I do not care to wrestle with Mr. Kaiser as he is only a boy of seventeen and it would not be fair. If I want to wrestle, I wrestle a man—not a kid—and it will be something better than Geo. Kaiser when I do.

The Indemnity

Editor, The Times:
Sir—The collapse of confidence in the Farmers' government, caused by the recent "salary grab", cannot be restored by returning the money to the provincial treasury, although it is confidently predicted that all members will follow the lead of Hon. Mrs. Part. by in paying back the $250 in full.

Defenders of the members in taking the money are practically all. Explanations of their action all refer to the claim that not more than two or three farmer members voted for the bill. No one has discussed the ethics of the U.F.A. organization as possibly responsible for the fact that all took the money, regardless of their convictions.

In a speech made by the U.F.A. president in 1919, after outlining the development of the Manufacturers association he stated: "You cannot blame the manufacturers for organizing, but when they had organized and protected themselves in a legitimate way, they found all other classes unorganized, and the field was white with a harvest of graft, and they could not resist the temptation. You could not expect them to. They were only human and perhaps not that."

This is a considered opinion of the leader of the U.F.A. and we may assume that the present government was influenced by it as in the "U.F.A." of September 1 there is an assigned letter by a member of parliament, in which he says: "I am responsible solely by my constituency organization for any action on mine or out of the legislature." We all know the unbounded influence which central office exercises over local and constituency conventions, and it seems reasonable to surmise that the cumulative effects of the ethics indicated by their leader induced them to accept an indemnity for which they refused to vote and which they now admit to be a mistake.

The original U.F.A. was an outgrowth of the high ideals held by many farmers. These men are clothed with that "inheritance of honor" communicated by Baron Hume, James Hower, Joshua Fletcher, Ike Sheppard, D. W. Warner, Geo. Bevington, Mr. Chao, and the lamented Mr. Trellis, with scores of others, served as presidents, secretaries, and organizers without compensation. They were working not only to benefit farmers, but for some improvements that would better the condition of all classes. They built their organization upon the fundamental "equal justice to all" and "special privileges to none." Then a movement was instituted to pay a few officers at the top. As the organization did not raise funds enough to pay expenses of officers, the principle of "special privileges to none" was thrown into the discard and as manufacturers and other monopolies had done before them, they went to the government, asking for money and for several years accepted from the department of agriculture an annual grant of $2,000. When the salary of President Wood, in 1919, was $2,000 from $2,000 to $4,000, the grant was just sufficient to cover the increase.

Our farmer members ever elected to promote economy and retrenchment in public expenditure. They were expected to cut their own salaries to a pre-war basis, to reduce their personal governmental expenses to a minimum, and to limit departmental expenditure to conform with the ability of tax payers to meet the obligations imposed. This they have failed to do. According to the ethics of President Wood, publicly expressed: "You cannot blame them. They are only human and perhaps not that."

If a remedy is desired by the organization, does it not lie in a better ethical standard and the old-fashioned habit, to practice what you preach?

Popular Bride And Groom Reach Their Destination

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Caps recently arrived in Ceburne from their wedding trip. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Caps of this city and his bride was formerly Mrs. Elizabeth, daughter of M. Anthony Stewart of Rossmore, of Wetaskiwin, Alberta, Canada. They were married in Wetaskiwin on September 13, and had a very delightful wedding trip, going to Banff by way of Calgary.

Banff is one of the most noted resorts in Canada. The mineral waters from the springs test as high as 35 to 34 degrees. The mountains in this part of the country are wonderful. They then went to Vancouver and greatly enjoyed seeing the beautiful streams and forests in the great Rockies. They then took the boat to Victoria, which city is noted for its well planned parks. The grass is green here the year round and Mr. Caps states that the parks are the most beautifully planned and kept that he has ever visited. They continued the boat trip to Seattle, making the trip in twelve hours. From there they went to Portland and greatly enjoyed a stay in the City of Roses. From Portland they turned towards home and made a stop at Salt Lake where they visited with former schoolmates at Gallaudet College, Washington City. They had a wonderful time in Colorado, seeing the Royal Gorge and Grand Canyon. They found the trip to Pike's Peak rather cold but very interesting. From Colorado they came straight to Ceburne.

Mr. and Mrs. Caps both attended Gallaudet College for three years and it was here that the romance began which culminated in their recent marriage. Mrs. Caps is a very beautiful young lady, accomplished and cultured and her winsome personality and charming manner have already won her a place in the hearts of the friends of her husband—Ceburne (Texas) Review.

There will be a sale of home baking held at the Banner Grocery on Saturday afternoon, October 11, from 3 to 5 o'clock. Cakes, pies, dressed chickens, sweet cream, etc. will be sold.

Mrs. A. Arntsen of Calgary, arrived in the city a few days ago to renew acquaintances. The many friends are glad to learn that Mr. Arntsen has a good situation in the southern city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Ward Bailey, who have been spending a month at different places at the coast, returned home a few days ago. They had a good holiday, although Mr. Bailey was indisposed part of the time.

The officers and members of L.O.L. 174 held a very successful social evening in the L.O.O.P. Hall on Friday evening last. After cards and refreshments, dancing was indulged in. There was a large crowd in attendance and a good time is reported.

A meeting of hockey enthusiasts is being held in the Grand Hotel this Wednesday evening, when it is expected that the club will be re-organized and arrangements made for the placing of a team on the ice this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. O'Neill Hayes, of Victoria, who are taking a motor trip through the country, were in Wetaskiwin last week renewing the acquaintance of their many friends. They were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Miquelon.

The many friends of Mrs. Wm. Kaiser, who left here about four months ago for the coast, on account of her health, regret to learn that she is now very ill in the hospital. Mr. Kaiser left on Monday for Victoria, where she is, in response to a telegram.

On Tuesday night, Oct. 10, the members of the Wm. One Bible class of the Methodist church motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Robinson at Brightview, when a most enjoyable evening was spent. The return drive by moonlight in the crisp air was only one of the many pleasant features of an evening enjoyed by all present.

J. W. Bailey & Sons' famous Durac Jersey hogs, which have been going the rounds of the big fair circuit for the past three months arrived here last week from the coast. As was to be expected, they won a large portion of the prize money wherever shown, and as a result of this extended trip Bailey's hogs are more widely known than ever before, and Wetaskiwin has a larger place on the map.

4500 MILE JAUNT TO POUCE COUPE BY PRAIRIE SCHOONER

Peace River, Oct. 9.—A prairie schooner has reached Peace River after a month's travel from Idaho, covering over four thousand miles en route. Thirty days ago W. W. Harris and H. H. Hibbs pulled out from the little home town in Idaho with the intention of locating on farms in the Pouce Coupe country. With a light wagon with canvas top and supplies pulled by a wry team and one spare horse leading behind, the journey was successfully made to Edmonton and then north by the Grand trail to Peace River. Only a few hours' stay was made in the valley when a new grubstake was procured and the two hundred miles overland to Pouce Coupe will bring the grand total of mileage up to nearly 4500 miles.

Mr. and Mrs. Turnbull of Red Deer spent the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Wiseman. Mr. Turnbull is one of the proprietors of the Red Deer Advocate and gave The Times a pleasant call.

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Jevne, and daughter returned a few days ago from their trip to Norway, where they spent several months with relatives and old friends. Mr. Jevne says that he had a delightful trip and a real good outing. He found conditions in Norway very good, and expects a large immigration to this country in the near future. He was instrumental in inducing quite a number of families to come out to the Wetaskiwin district next year. The big drawback to immigration at the present time is the high transportation charges but Mr. Jevne has been informed that these will be greatly reduced in the near future.

SASKATOON GAVE EDMONTON ESKS GOOD STIFF GAME

Edmonton, Oct. 9.—The Edmonton Eskimos rugby team, western Canada champions of last year, defeated the Saskatoon Quakers, Saskatchewan champions, here Saturday afternoon, by a 16 to 13 score, in an exhibition game. Three thousand people saw the contest. For the visiting team the three Hooty brothers were outstanding stars, while Dorman and Fraser shone for the home team. There was considerable argument during the game, and therefore Cornsack refused to act further, when one of the Saskatoon players refused to accept a penalty. The whole team later left the field, but were finally persuaded to return and continue.
